

Bay Window Bee Extraction, May 2020
By Sevenoaks Team Sarah Rapley & John
Farrow at a Property in Crowborough.

Sarah is making a start in removing some of the tiles.

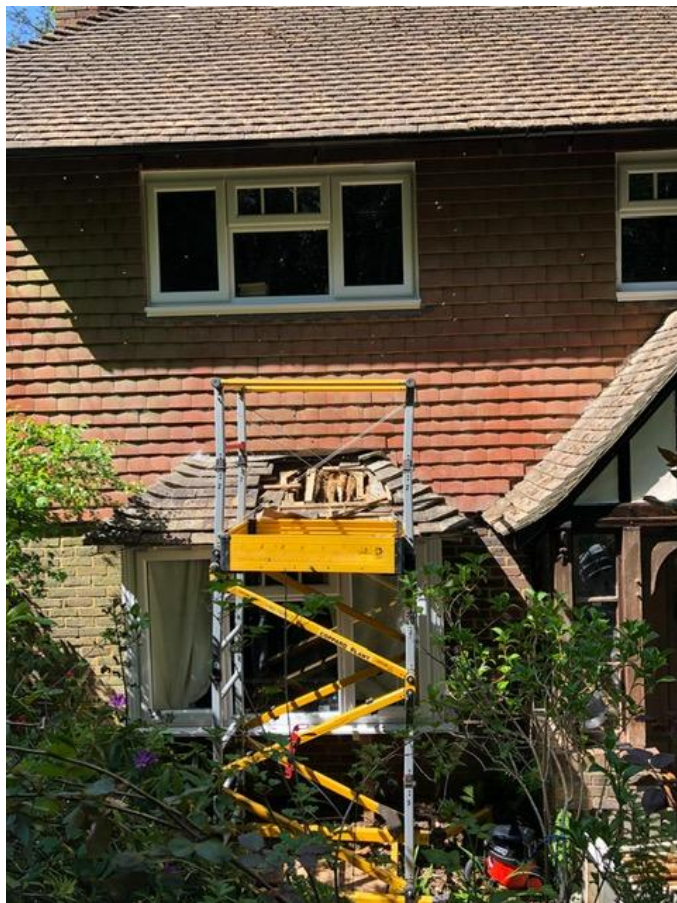

Taking a closer look of the brood nest.

Sarah contemplating the next move?

Here is a picture of the exposed honeycomb.

One of the largest brood combs.

John fitting the reshaped comb into the frame on a makeshift table of a couple of buckets & polynuc!!

Brood comb being handed down to John to reshape.

This is the final stage, where Sarah is using the bee-vac to add the remaining bees in the bay window to the honeycomb and bees previously placed in this poly nuc.

The bottom hose provides the suction under the open mesh floor.
